

Pastor Celebrates 50th Wedding Date

Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Bowling, an annual affair. Chairman for this year is Mrs. Gerrie Bowen.

Good news was received by the congregation at the Methodist Church meeting last Sunday; they were told that sufficient funds are now available to start work on the church building as soon as plans are drawn up and approved. To this group of hard workers may we give a cheer, since in a little over a year they have really accomplished a lot toward making the Walteria Methodist Community Church a fact and a success.

Following the dinner, the group went to the church parlors, where reception was held for over 200 people who have become the friends of the Bowlings over the many years they have served in churches. The parlors were decorated with tall golden tapers shedding sparkling light on lace tableclothes and gleaming silver. Huge bouquets of yellow mums were centerpieces on the three tables. A sheet cake decorated with yellow roses and golden leaves provided refreshment. The guests enjoyed organ and saxophone music played by the Bowlings' nephew from Fresno.

At the gathering were friends from Fresno, Los Angeles and Long Beach, as well as from the territory surrounding Campbell.

Guest last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Heintz, Neece Ave., was Mrs. Anna Rhoy from Paris, Calif. Mrs. Rhoy is Mrs. Heintz' mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland M. Harrison, Los Codona Ave., spent a very pleasant five days at Idyllwild, returning home on Thursday, Nov. 30.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mosley are being host this week to their nephew, Billy Naumann of Tucson, Ariz.

We are very sorry to hear that little Dick Ziske, son of the Ziskes, who owned the grocery store on Hawthorne Blvd. until recently, has been suffering from an attack of polio. From the last reports he is gaining ground rapidly.

December 5 will be a big date for the Walteria WSO; that is the date of their Christmas bazaar, which they hope to make

College Offers Christmas Sales Training Course

As a service to merchants in this area and as a service to students or community residents seeking Christmas work in the local stores, a special Christmas Sales Training course has been announced at El Camino College by William H. Harless, director of instruction.

J. H. Martin, cooperative merchandising instructor, who will teach the course, said class meetings would be held at separate hours for regularly enrolled students of the college and for other persons who might be interested in such a course.

Guest speakers at some of the class meetings will be Mrs. Virginia Smith of the Broadway-Crenshaw store, and Mrs. Edna Baugh of Sears-Roebuck. Subjects to be discussed in the classes include sales personality, why people buy, techniques of selling, store procedures, problems you will meet on the job, making an application, and getting the job.

New Sign Brightens Downtown Torrance

Newest addition to the bright lights of downtown Torrance is a neon sign at Caps Poultry Store, 1615 Cabrillo Ave. Owner Nicholas Kalini, said he put up the new sign to remind folks that now is the time to order holiday turkeys to be sure of delivery on time.

Valuable Orchid Plants Taken From Greenhouse

A flower loving thief entered a greenhouse at 2310 W. 156th St. and copped 30 or 35 potted orchid plants, gardener Frank Szalwinski reported to Torrance police Thursday evening. He said he had left the building unlocked.

Value of the plants was set at $200 by the owner, according to reports.

Bandits Stickup Night Attendant At Gas Station

Armed with a .45 caliber automatic, a tall bandit dressed in levis ordered a service station attendant to "hand over" the day's receipts of $180 and then fled in a car driven by another young man, according to police.

Victim of the stick-up was Eddie's Service Station, Redondo Beach Blvd. and Hawthorne Ave. Attendant Jerry Sartain told detectives he was attempting to put the money in a cash drawer about 6 o'clock Sunday morning when the bandit ordered him to hand it over.

Both suspects fled the scene on Redondo Beach Blvd., heading towards Redondo Beach. They were riding in a 1948 Ford, Sartain said.

Bartender Says 'No' Lands in Harbor Hospital

Bartender Hiram Morrison is a peace-loving guy and likes to abide by the rules, he says.

So when a bar patron at a cafe at 1778 W. Carson St., asked him for a drink five minutes after closing time Sunday, he refused.

The irate customer slugged Morrison in the nose, requiring that he go to Harbor General Hospital for a repair job.

Money Stolen

Forty-dollars was missing from a dresser drawer when she returned from Church, Sunday, Mrs. Winifred Mewborn, of 5321 Reese Rd., told Torrance police.

Scouts May Join Christmas Tree Sale Fund Drive

Torrance area Scout troops interested in swelling their treasuries have been invited to participate in a Christmas tree sale, an annual event, it was indicated yesterday.

Lynn Dane, of 20906 Halldale Ave., reported that the Jim Dandy Market parking lot, Crenshaw and Torrance Blvds., will be used this year as a tree sale lot.

Scouts will sell tickets to prospective tree purchasers. The tickets will be worth $1 on the purchase of any tree at the lot, Dane said.

Proceeds from the sale will go to the Scouts-Boys and Cubs. Dane can also be contacted at Torrance 2211-W.
